PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Greetings

It's amazing how quickly the time slips by. Here we are in week 6 already! Students have started rehearsals for their play Circus Splendida. I would ask the people at home to please help students go through their lines as often as possible. We only have a short time until our performance.

With Spring just around the corner, our veggie patch will start producing again. The 4/5/6 class have been propagating their seedlings and we've planted out the broad beans and snow peas. Our other seedlings are still getting big enough to plant out.

Make sure that you keep an eye out for the next issue of New England Country Living magazine. There is a great article in there about the garden and some wonderful photos of the students. The year 2/3 class had a little cooking experience and made a very health noodle soup. I would like to welcome Miss Talia Laurie back to school. Miss Laurie is in her third year of a Bachelor of Education and is completing her practicum with the 4/5/6 class.

Nundle Public School—individual opportunities in a caring rural community

I think students are quite enjoying the change in face at the front of their class. Miss Laurie is doing a great job. If you would like to meet her, please feel free to call into the school.

Thank you to the P&C who catered for the Wombramurra bull sale. I believe they sold out of everything. Unfortunately, due to the weather we were not able to take the students to the sale. Mr Andrew Chapman will be coming into the school to talk with students about the sale.

I would like to ask parents and carers again that if there are any changes in students' afternoon travel arrangements, please make sure you have contacted the school. Unless we have been contacted by a carer, we are unable to allow students to vary their travel for the afternoon.

Next term we move into our summer uniform. The clothing pool is very short on clothing. If you find that your student has outgrown their summer uniform, it would be greatly appreciated in the clothing pool if not being passed on to siblings or friends.

Last week I sent a letter home asking for contact details. It is very important that this be returned, particularly with the email details. I need to send a number of surveys to parents and the electronic form is the easiest way to do this and have them collated. If you could get these back to me ASAP it would be appreciated.

PLAYGROUND POEMS

Years 4/5/6

I heard the cars yelling
I could see the mountains in the distance and the trees
I felt the sun cooking me
By: Binban Jaffer-Williams

The clouds are floating across the sky
Magpies singing in the distance
The warm sun on my skin.
By: Chalali Holness

Sun shines in my eyes
Cars zoom straight past
The wind pushes against my face.
By: Goergia Burnes

I can see the mysterious clouds in the bright blue sky
The beautiful view through the trees and the best bushy tree.
By: Tyneika Self

Sun beaming on my face
Engines of cars zooming
past
I see grass and trees swaying.
By: Lucas McGill

Playground Poems continued:

Sun glaring down at me
The birds singing happily
I can see the clear sky
The tree is standing still
I can see the mist white clouds.
By: Rhiannon Heggs

I heard birds singing a song together in the trees
I felt the sun shining on my face
I saw people reading books.
By: Maddison Potts

SIMILIE POEM

Emerald green as the sea
The piercing sting like that of a bumblebee
The wind was as cold as ice.
My head was itchy like I had headlice.
The boy was as hungry as a horse.
His mouth was on fire like hot sauce.
Cute and fluffy as a kitten
Soft and warm like a mitten.
